

ROYAL MISSION: PRINCE HARRY'S AFRICAN ADVENTURE

TOWN & COUNTRY

THE BEST OF BOTH WORLDS

SPRING 2017 £5.95

TEA FOR TWO

An audience with Gemma Arterton

FASHION HOUSE
Chatsworth celebrates five centuries of style

THE JOYS OF SPRING

Princess wedding gowns, romantic ruffles & equestrian elegance

THEATRE

IN THE LIMELIGHT

Hamlet's minor characters take centre stage at the Old Vic

In 1967, the Old Vic took a gamble on a play from the Edinburgh Fringe by a young playwright called Tom Stoppard. Rosencrantz & Guildenstern Are Dead launched his career overnight. To celebrate the 50th anniversary of this premiere, the Old Vic is staging a new production starring Daniel Radcliffe as Rosencrantz and Joshua McGuire as Guildenstern, two bumbling characters from Hamlet. Prepare to be beguiled and bewildered by this brilliantly clever comedy. 'Rosencrantz & Guildenstern Are Dead' is at the Old Vic (www.oldvictheatre.com) from 25 February to 29 April.

STACKABLE
CROWN RINGS BY ANNOUSHKA

JEWELLERY

CROWNING GLORIES

Bejewelled rings with regal appeal

If you haven't inherited any family gems, start your own collection with these stacking rings in filigree gold, studded with sparkling diamonds. CHARLIE BOYD
Crown rings, from £2,500, Annoushka (www.annoushka.com).

SHOPPING

A CACHEPOT (LEFT) AND
VASE (RIGHT)
BY VISIONNAIRE

LA DOLCE VITA

Add the flair of Rome to your home

Even the most English of interiors can benefit from a touch of Italian glamour. Situated on the third floor of Harrods, the Visionnaire concession is a decorative treasure-trove, where furniture upholstered in sumptuous shades of rich velvet and buttery suede sits alongside sophisticated accessories such as this classically inspired cachepot and lidded vase. CG www.visionnaire-home.com.

RIGHT AND ABOVE RIGHT:
VISIONNAIRE
INTERIORS