

ELLE

DECORATION

THE STYLE MAGAZINE
FOR YOUR HOME
SEPTEMBER 2018
£4.80

LUXURY REDEFINED

Take an exclusive look inside the world's most aspirational homes

KITCHEN TRENDS SPECIAL

THE LOOKS TO TRY AND THE PIECES TO BUY

FEMALE FUTURE
We celebrate the POWER and GENIUS of women in design

ECO LIVING

GOING GREEN HAS NEVER BEEN EASIER OR MORE STYLISH
PHILIPPE STARCK ON WHY SUSTAINABILITY WORKS

NATURE'S FINEST

The latest furniture and homeware features the most luxurious materials found in the natural world, from textured woods to smooth marbles

Right 'Bilbo' pendant, £2,446; 'Kalgan' pendant £2,446; 'Kael' pendant, £2,300, all by Marco Piva, Visionnaire (visionnaire-home.com)

Below 'Alambra' sideboard by Giuseppe Bavuso, from £2,768, Rimadesio (rimadesio.com)

High-impact, luxury materials are showing no sign of leaving our homes, with brands making the most of what nature has to offer and showcasing stone, wood, glass and metals in the most opulent of ways. Slabs of expressive, one-of-a-kind marble top tables of every shape and size, while gleaming precious metals are displayed on almost every surface and wood is worked into exquisite finishes, using marquetry, inlay and fine carpentry. Here's our pick of the best examples of nature's bounty.

'Icon' table by Mauro Lipparini for Arketipo, £11,555, Chaplins (chaplins.co.uk)

'Ishino' tables by Da'i Sugasawa for Walter Knoll, from £3,847, Aram (aram.co.uk)

'Cookies' coffee table by Pietro Russo, from £1,200, Gallotti & Radice (gallottiradice.com)